

Olly-Olly accepts children's clothing and shoes ranging in sizes newborn to 8 (Shoes up to youth size 2). We also accept books, toys and baby equipment. Consignments are accepted anytime during normal business hours, no appointment necessary.

Our reputation and our customers' satisfaction are dependent on the condition and quality of the items we sell in our store. Therefore, we are selective in what we consign and limit our selection to items and brands with proven quality and durability. Please refer to our website, www.olly-olly.com for information about items we can accept.

All items must be in excellent condition, "in-season", and current (no older than 2-3 years). Items must be stain-free without excessive wear, fading or pilling. All fasteners (zippers, snaps, buttons, ties) must be intact and working properly. Clothing items should be freshly laundered before consigning. Toys and gear should include all parts as well and have fresh batteries. If an item is accepted and is later found to be stained or damaged, the item will be pulled from the sales floor and donated. Please always check with us before bringing in large items (i.e., strollers, cribs, bassinets, swings). We accept these items based on space availability.

Items we are unable to consign (no thank-yous) must be picked up within 3 business days after drop off due to limited storage space. If not picked up during this timeframe, the items will become the property of Olly-Olly. Additionally, unsold items may be collected or donated after the consignment period based on consignor preference. If consignors choose to collect unsold items, items must be picked up within 7 days of being notified that items are ready or they will become property of Olly-Olly. We donate clothing and other items to local charities that support women and children. Please refer to our website for more information about these charities.

Olly-Olly reserves the right to set the prices on all consigned items. The consignment period is a minimum of 60 days and begins once your items are inventoried in our system. Consignors can choose to receive 40% payout in the form of a check or 50% store credit for the sale of their items. Olly-Olly does our best to sell your items at the full resale price; however, intermittent markdowns will be made in order to encourage a sale.

Funds that accumulate in your account are available for your immediate use towards purchases at Olly-Olly. Consignors are able to check the status of their consigned items and earning balances through our system (see instructions below). Paper checks will be mailed monthly for balances exceeding $50. Balances of less than $50 are available for pick up at Olly-Olly.
